Reduced/Waived Tuition for Chinese Language Classes for Students from Low-Income Families

Reaffirming its commitment to providing Chinese Language & Culture (CLC) learning opportunities for all K-12 students, Northwest Chinese School (NWCS) proudly announces its 2025 – 2026 School Year Financial Aid Program (FAP) for low-income families based on Metro-Seattle Standards.

All current and new NWCS students from families with Adjusted Gross Income (AGI) below Washington State standards may qualify for:

- Up to 50% tuition reduction, or
- A full tuition waiver (100% free tuition) for one 2-hour Chinese class.

This policy does not apply to any selective courses at NWCS.

At NWCS, our mission is to support and encourage students to pursue Chinese language and cultural learning as part of their brighter future. To further this mission, NWCS remains committed to assisting all eligible students through FAP, particularly those from families significantly impacted by COVID-19.

Financial aid applicants must meet the income eligibility requirements, as outlined in the chart below. Only households with total pre-tax income lower than the listed amounts qualify.
